TST/TTT Candidate Guidelines – Is this training appropriate for you?

Candidates for the TST Workshop are health care workers (HCWs) who have experience with injections, universal precautions, sterile technique, and who are responsible for assessing risk of TB.

A participant in the TST course who does not meet the above guidelines may be considered for "Read Only" status. This means that the participant can "read" results of a TST placed by a person in their institution trained in TST. There must be a trained person available on-site to whom all positive and questionable results will be referred. A "Read Only" participant will never administer the Mantoux skin test.

Candidates for TTT are RNs and LPNs who have experience in Tuberculosis Control and are responsible for training others in TST.
